Gary Thomas is AAA member

Gary W. Thomas, of Appomattox, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice-president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with some 38,000 active life and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 10 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association. Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

Five phone workers complete courses

Five Amherst Continental Telephone employees have completed courses at the Continental Telephone System Training Center near Amherst.

Ted W. Layne, an installer-repairperson of Appomattox, has completed the course in basic station installation.

James M. Haney of Lowesville has completed courses on the fundamentals of electronics and carrier systems. Others completing courses on carrier systems are Fred H. Perry of Raphine and William E. Hill of Amherst. Haney and Hill work in the central office and Perry is an installer-repairperson.

Herman M. Davis, a linepers son from Clifford, has completed a course in the fundamentals of cable splicing.

FFCA dividends declared

At their December meeting, the Board of Directors of the Farmville Farm Credit Associations declared dividends for both the Farmville Production Credit Association (PCA) and the Federal Land Bank Association (FBLA).

A five percent dividend on FLBA capital stock and participation certificates was declared for holders of record on October 31, 1981. According to General Manager, Arlie F. Saunders, "This represents the first dividend in many years. The FLBA has been building reserve requirements and has finally reached its goal. Hopefully now that reserves are met, the FLBA will be a position to continue to pay dividends."

The Board declared a five percent dividend to be paid on outstanding "A" stock as of December 31, 1981, for the Production Credit Association. "A" stock is considered an investment in the PCA since it is not required to support a loan.

Members should receive their dividend checks during the first week in March.

Three phone charges will increase soon

Continental Telephone is increasing three of its installation charges - premise visit, inside wiring and equipment handling, according to Spence Kiser, Customer Service Manager.

"These costs have historically been part of the company's total investment in service and thus shared by all customers," said Kiser. "Now only those customers requesting these services will pay for them."

According to Kiser, the new rates are the result of a Federal Communications Commission order last March requiring all telephone companies to price their services closer to the actual costs.

"Even though some of the installation charges have gone up, our customers can save these costs by doing the work themselves," explained Kiser. "If the home is already equipped with modular jacks, the customer will save $36.50 on installation and handling.

"Our customers will soon be able to save $60 by using a kit to convert their service to a modular jack, and by picking up and installing their own telephones." There will be no charge for this kit.

Continental customers can also save $2.00 per month per phone if they buy their phones instead of leasing them.

The State Corporation Commission approved Continental's new tariff revising the cost of installation charges January 5.

Continental filed its request for these charges August 31, 1981. The new rates will result in a $1.5 million increase in annual revenue for the company.

The new rates are: $21 for a premise visit, $24 per phone for inside wiring, and $15.55 per phone for the equipment handling charge. Before the new tariff went into effect, the rates were: $10 for a premise visit, $5 for residential inside wiring and $8 for business inside wiring, and $6 for the equipment handling charge.

Charges for primary service order, secondary service order, access line charge and jack charge will remain the same.

Continental Telephone, the fourth largest phone company in the country, provides service to more than 200,000 customers in Virginia.

AT THE JANUARY MEETING of The Oakville Ruritan Club, Carl Patton (L) and Tye Bollinger (R), former members of the club, were welcomed back into the membership. Bollinger is a charter member. The January meeting was devoted to making plans for 1982 public service projects.

Rates meeting scheduled

Interested and concerned electric ratepayers are invited to the second meeting sponsored by Consumers For A Better State Corporation Commission in Farmville at the Piedmont Planning District Commission office meeting room on Wednesday, January 13, 1982 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting room is located at 102½ High Street in downtown Farmville.

This meeting will have discussions concerning the impact of the State Corporation Commission (SCC) on high electric utility rates in our area, and how concerned residents can help influence their Virginia General Assembly members to appoint a consumer-minded SCC Commissioner by February 1, 1982. All concerned ratepayers should not miss this important meeting and the opportunity to help keep electric rates reasonable.

DMSO

Pharmacists warn of new 'miracle' drug

"Arthritis/Bursities sufferers report amazing pain relief....remarkable benefits!" Recent classified ads in Virginia newspapers and other promotions are a source of concern for pharmacists alarmed by the increased use of the controversial drug DMSO (dimethyl sulfoxide).

DMSO has not been approved by the Food and Drug Administration and pharmacists contend that the drug may be both dangerous or ineffective. Kenneth W. Schafermeyer, Executive Director of the Virginia Pharmaceutical Association, stated recently that "many people are using veterinary and industrial DMSO to treat themselves topically and orally. We feel they're taking tremendous health risks which, in some cases, may far exceed any benefits."

DMSO is currently available in three forms and concentrations:

* A 50 percent solution approved in 1978 for instillation in the urinary bladder in the treatment of interstitial cystitis.
* A 90 percent solution approved in 1970 as a veterinary medication for topical use in nonbreeding dogs and horses.
* A 99 percent solution marketed for many years as an industrial "degreaser solvent."

Although the Food and Drug Administration has approved the 50% solution for a bladder-condition known as interstitial cystitis, recent reports from the Agency advise pharmacists to refrain to distribute the product in any other form. FDA classifies DMSO as an investigational drug. Studies to determine the effectiveness of
